

VOWEL ACTIVITY

Recognizing and distinguishing vowels from consonant is an important step in the development of reading and writing skills. The study of short vowel sounds is vital to students' early reading and writing skills.

An activity was conducted in Senior Kg. class on 18th September 2018 Tuesday. The students picked the vowel from a box, and made words using that particular vowel. The students also learnt how to make words during this activity.